

GLADSTONE AT DUNDÉE

Welcomed by Great Crowds of Enthusiastic People.

OPENING OF THE ART EXHIBITION

The Great Commoner Makes an Exhaustive Speech in Which He Pays His Respects to the McKinley Tariff Bill.—An interview with T. P. O'Connor.—The Sad Fate of Vera Sassoulitch.—Other Foreign Notes of Interest.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Gladstone arrived in this city at noon, and was met at the station by the provost and the council. An immense throng of people surrounded the station and extended far along the approaches thereto. As soon as the tall form of the great commoner was discerned by the crowd a mighty cheer went up. But very few minutes were spent in the exchange of greetings, and after Mr. Gladstone, the provost, the council and the distinguished guests of the city had taken their seats in the waiting carriages the order to march was given and the great procession moved rapidly forward to the city hall. The available foot space was comprised almost all the municipal, military and civic organizations. Pride and good taste had combined to effect a most brilliant display in the decoration of the buildings on the streets through which the procession moved.

On arriving at the city hall Mr. Gladstone was conducted to the council chamber and there presented with the freedom of the city of Dundee, the parchment being encased in a silverasket of elegant design and skillful workmanship. When the ceremonies at the city hall were completed, Mr. Gladstone and his hosts entered their carriages and were escorted to the art exhibition. Here the crowd was so great that it was with some difficulty a free passage-way was kept open for the orator of the day and his companions. Within the building every available foot space was taken up by an audience which sat on a raised platform. Mr. Gladstone was promptly introduced to the eager throng, and at once commenced the delivery of his speech in opening the exhibition.

The McKinley Tariff Bill.
The speech was an exhaustive and able dissertation on political economy. In referring to the McKinley tariff bill, Mr. Gladstone said that while he recognized the fact that the commerce of Dundee was seriously threatened by the enactment of that measure into law he would not be yielding to accusations against the people of the United States. While it was true that the enforcement by the Americans of a protective policy might cause incidental and collateral injury to the trade and commerce of other countries, it was not the less true that it would eventually inflict far greater injury to the material interests of the country adopting it.

Effect of the Legislation.
No tariff, said Mr. Gladstone, could seriously interfere with or jeopardize British prosperity. Continuing the speaker declared that the first effect of the legislation referred to should be to raise prices generally in the United States, thus diminishing the national power of exportation. The new American tariff law also meant that while Great Britain was driven from one market out of twenty, it derived the benefit of the other nineteen which it should control by reason of the diminished power of America to compete therein. This inability would be due to the increased prices and increased restraints under which the Americans would have to work.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

The Fate of Vera Sassoulitch.
LONDON, Oct. 29.—Vera Sassoulitch, the famous nihilist whose adventures and hardships in connection with the nihilist Hartmann, attracted to her world-wide sympathy about two years ago, is dying at Geneva, whether she sought refuge after escaping from the clutches of the Russian authorities. At the time she came into notice she was young and beautiful, but time has robbed her of youth and harsh treatment and exposure and consequent ill-health have taken their toll, and she is now a prematurely old woman.

The O'Brien-Dillon Mission.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A correspondent of The Cologne Gazette has had an interview with T. P. O'Connor on matters relating to Ireland. During the interview Mr. O'Connor said that the O'Brien-Dillon mission to America had nothing to do with the potato famine, which was the business of the Irish government. "Our only concern," he says, "is to get money for political purposes." The mission counts upon getting $100,000. He himself would probably go to Canada, Dillon and O'Brien not daring to risk arrest there.

Wouldn't Handle Boycotted Cattle.

CORR, Oct. 29.—The sailors on the coasting steamer Danbury, now in this port, refused to work on boycotted cattle, which the steamer company had contracted to carry, were taken on board. The company forwarded the cattle to their destination by train, paying the costs of such transportation. The Landlord's Defense union will nevertheless sue the company for its failure to embark the cattle according to contract.

Remonstrating with the Porte.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—It is reported from Constantinople that the Austrian and British ambassadors to the ports have remonstrated with the sultan on the cruel treatment of Armenian prisoners, several of whom, including the young Armenian who attempted to murder the Archbishop Soudkias, have been tortured to death in the prisons of Constantinople.

Not Very Suitable Conversation.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—It appears that a recent wholesale conversion of some 200 Jewish students to Christianity in the university of Odessa was due to the rejection of their petition to the Russian governor to be permitted to continue their studies as Jews.

Death of Boucault's Daughter.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Patrice Boucault, the daughter of the late Dion Boucault, died Wednesday quite suddenly. She married Mr. Pittman some months ago and had just given birth to a child. It was thought that she had passed through an ailment and was recovering rapidly

CATHOLIC CELEBRATION

The Silver Jubilee of Archbishop Feehan.

MANY DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

An imposing procession of prelates and to the church of the Holy Name where Solemn Pontifical High Mass is celebrated by the Archbishop.—A Banquet at the Auditorium and a Monster Torchlight Procession at Night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The grandest religious celebration and pageant ever held in the west, or perhaps in the whole country, with the exception of the exercises incidental to the bestowal upon Archbishop Gibbons of the papal ring of a cardinal, commenced this morning. Twenty-five years ago on Saturday next a young St. Louis priest was consecrated at Nashville, Tenn., as bishop of that diocese. Fifteen years later that same priest and bishop, having filled that popular and important see for that length of time, was raised to the ecclesiastical dignity of archbishop of Chicago, with an importance which in material and spiritual importance is among the first in the world. The celebration which opened Wednesday, therefore is in honor of the silver jubilee of the most Rev. Patrick Augustine Feehan, and is the result of a spontaneous desire not only to recognize the anniversary of a most important event in the history of the Roman Catholic church, but as a tribute to the popularity of the archbishop himself.

A Procession of Prelates.
Never in the history of Chicago has there been such a procession of prelates and priests as on Wednesday morning. The morning dawned Chicago avenue to the Cathedral of the Holy Name. First came the archbishops, followed by the bishops, and then the priests, all in full vestments, and carrying processional crosses. A halt was made at the parochial residence. Here the procession was joined by Archbishop Ryan, Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia; Bishops Hennessy, of Dubuque, Iowa; Chatard, of Vincennes, Ind.; Congro, of Davenport, Iowa; Richter, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Flanagan, of La Crosse, Wis.; McCloskey, of Louisville, Ky.; Ryan, of Alton, Ill.; Janssen, of Belleville, Ill.; Spalding, of Peoria, Ill.; and Mr. Zeining, administrator of the archdiocese of Milwaukee; Vice General Gleason, of Nashville, Tenn.; Father Kavanagh, president of Niagara college; Brother Vale, president of Notre Dame university, and Father Vail, of Memphis, Tenn.

Pontifical High Mass.
The visiting prelates were vested in purple mitre, surplice and cassock, and each was accompanied by two chaplains. The procession was a colossal affair, and a host of people. The procession was nearly 1,000 strong and presented a magnificent spectacle, and as it entered through the portals of the cathedral the great organ and an orchestra of thirty-six pieces rendered Meyerbeer's "Grand March of the Prophet." Solemn pontifical high mass was then celebrated, the archbishop himself being the celebrant. At the end of the mass an eloquent sermon was preached by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia. The episcopal benediction pronounced by Archbishop Feehan brought the procession to a close. In the afternoon the archbishop was banqueted in the grand hall of the Auditorium, covers being laid for 400 guests. This was followed by a reception in the public parlors of the hotel.

Great Torchlight Procession.

Between 20,000 and 30,000 participated in the grand torchlight procession at night. The Foresters alone had 10,000 men in line. The procession was divided into four sections, the first being composed of Italians, the second of Germans, the third of Poles and Bohemians, and the fourth of English speaking citizens. Behind these came the organized societies. Every man carried a torch or lantern, and wore a miniature United States flag in the buttonhole of his coat. There were sixty bands in line and thousands of dollars worth of fireworks were sent up. The archbishop and his guests reviewed the procession from the balcony of the Auditorium.

"Jack the Ripper" at Rondout, N. Y.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Great excitement has been caused at Lattinutun, Ulster county, by the appearance of a strange man, who signs himself "Jack the Ripper," and who has been claiming to have killed twelve persons, and proposes to kill three more. He fired through a window into William M. Mackey's residence, and barely missed hitting Mr. Mackey's son. He has also made several attempts to kill the village school teacher. A reward has been offered for his arrest, and he will probably soon be caught. It is believed that he is an escaped lunatic.

Valuable Shipment of Trotters.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 29.—The most valuable shipment of young trotters that ever left Kentucky was sent from this city Monday to Marcus Daly, "the Copper King," of Anaconda, Mont. There were three 3-year-olds, including the $10,000 Lady Wilton, record 2:25; ten yearlings and three yearlings. They are by Red Wilks, Robert McGregor, Bell Boy, and Billy Wilks. This lot of youngsters cost Mr. Daly $54,000.

Nine Horses Cremated.

LOS ANGELES, Tex., Oct. 29.—As the Santa Fe freight train was running down a steep grade near Miles creek, two cars loaded with household goods and horses, owned by Dr. E. W. Bradley, of Clinton, Ky., were discovered to be on fire, and before the train could be stopped the cars were burned. Nine head of horses were burned to death. The loss is placed at $7,000.

Most Horrible Suicide.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Benjamin Mahan, of Preston, Chenango county, while laboring under the hallucination that a commission was about to send him to the Binghamton insane asylum, shot himself with a shot gun at his home, and lying his head completely off on a level with his mouth. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and five children.

It Was Rank Treason.

DODGEVILLE, Wis., Oct. 29.—David Rogers attempted to commit suicide Tuesday afternoon by hanging himself to a rafter in the court house woodshed with a strip of the American flag. He was discovered and cut down.

Blaine En Route to Washington.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—Hon. James B. Blaine, secretary of state, reached here at noon Wednesday. He spoke in the afternoon to an enthusiastic audience, afterward leaving for Plymouth, where he will join his family on the way to Washington.

HE DUG HIS OWN GRAVE

A Pathetic Story from Pleasantville, N. Y.

A MAN'S GRIEF FOR HIS CHILDREN.

It Finally Develops into Insanity and the Bereaved Father Digs a Grave Beside Those of His Little Ones, Seawallows a Dose of Laudanum and Lies Down in the New-Made Grave to Die.—The Discovery by Friends.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Dr. C. C. Crosby, a well-known druggist of Pleasantville, attempted suicide Tuesday in the cemetery at Chappaqua, where he buried the bodies of his two children. He was found unconscious, stretched beside their graves. Dr. Crosby was about 40 years old, and his domestic life had been most happy until the death of his children a year ago. His grief settled into a melancholy which seemed daily to grow deeper. Lately he had exhibited signs of insanity, and his friends kept him in sight as much as possible. Every one who knew him understood that grief, on account of his bereavement, was destroying his reason.

Missed from His Store.
Some times when the names of his dead children were mentioned he became hysterical and of late his family had hysterical avoided every subject of conversation that would call them to mind. Tuesday afternoon he was missed from his store. He was traced to a livery stable where he had hired a carriage, and thence to the cemetery at Chappaqua. It was his custom to make frequent visits to his children's graves, and of this those who were looking for him were well aware. But they were not prepared for the pathetic spectacle that met their gaze when they arrived there.

Laid Down to Die.
Dr. Crosby had dismounted the carriage on entering the cemetery. He was such a familiar form there that the keeper paid little attention to him. What the searchers saw when they arrived made his motive appear as clear as daylight. He came to dig himself a grave beside those of his children and leave them no more. A grave digger's spade was close at hand and he struck in into the sod beside one of the little graves. He threw up the earth until there was a pit deep enough to hold his body. Then he took from his pocket a vial of laudanum, drank the contents, and lay himself down in the grave which he had dug.

In an Unconscious Condition.

This was what his friends saw when they arrived on the scene. He was unconscious, though the size of the dose had produced nausea and prevented speedy death. He was taken home, where he lay at the point of death, and the doctors say he may never know that he was rescued from the grave he dug for himself beside those of his children.

PISTOL AGAINST KNIFE.

Two Young South Carolinians Settle a Claim to a Girl.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 29.—Lemuel Allen, a young man of prominence in Ansonville, this state, accompanied Miss Grace Greene to a dance near that place the other night and while the affair was at its height Julius Tyson, an old admirer of Miss Greene, called young Allen out of the room. The young men present knew that unfriendly relations existed between the two, and several of the crowd followed them. As they entered the place where the two young men had stowed their weapons they heard them talking in a loud tone.

Shot Him Through the Temple.

They rushed up to them, but by the time they reached the spot Tyson had his knife out, and was literally carving Allen. Tyson tried to separate the rivals, but they seemed bent on killing each other. Allen pulled his pistol, and with a steady aim pulled the trigger. The ball took effect in Tyson's temple. Tyson fell to the ground dead. Allen made no attempt to escape, but went to the officers and gave himself up, saying that it was in self-defense, and his love for the young woman demanded that he should put Tyson out of the way.

Executing the Anti-Lottery Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Copies of a circular have been sent out by Attorney General Miller to United States marshals and district attorneys directing their attention to the provisions of the lottery act recently passed by congress, and instructing them to spare no effort in its enforcement. In his letter to the attorneys the attorney general says: "Every violation of this law, either by an individual or a corporation, in the dissemination of literature, or in any other way, should be brought to the attention of the grand jury, and whatever indictments are found vigorous prosecutions should follow, to the end that this nefarious business may be broken up."

Fire at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Nine horses were roasted to death in a fire which destroyed the stable and a portion of the bottling establishment connected with the Robert Smith Pale Ale Brewing company at Thirty-eighth street and Girard avenue. Two men, who are supposed to have been in the stable, were supposed to have escaped while the watchman was arousing the neighbors and fighting the flames. Loss on the stable and contents, $10,000; fully covered by insurance.

Quarrelled Over 25 Cents.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 29.—A deadly duel between two negroes occurred at Lowndesboro, a few miles from here on Monday. Scott Smith and Wilson McCall quarrelled over 25 cents and came to hot words and blows. They then drew pistols and opened fire on each other. When the smoke cleared away McCall was dead and Smith mortally wounded.

Whitney Not a Candidate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The World prints an interview with Daniel Lamont, in which he says that the story printed in Philadelphia, that William Whitney was a candidate for the United States senate, is wholly without foundation. Mr. Lamont says positively that Mr. Whitney is not a candidate for the office.

To Prison for Nine Years.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Henry Cassin, the bell boy who stole $17,000, the property of two bookmakers, from the safe of the Hotel Vendome, and recently convicted of larceny, was sent to the state prison for nine years.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

PRIZE FROM SIR HUBERT.
The Newark Daily American, of Newark,
Ohio, has the following to say about H. C.
Montgomery, candidate on the democratic ticket for the office of county treasurer.
This Ohio paper is strongly republican in politics, as will be further seen from reading the article. It first copies from THE Review, of Oct. 12, so much of the report of the democratic convention of the preceding day as relates to the nomination of Mr. Montgomery. Then the paper goes on to say, and the article is in the editorial column:

"H. C. Montgomery, who was nominated, as noticed above for county treasurer of Macon county, Ill., by the democracy of that county, is a son of Henry A. Montgomery, who is one of the leading republican farmers and stock growers of Central Ohio. While we have no sympathy with the party to which Clay belongs, and by which he has been unanimously nominated for this important office, we cannot help feeling pleased at this recognition of the sterling worth and true manhood of our friend whom we have known intimately for nearly a quarter of a century, as a boy and man of unimpeachable integrity and unquestioned intelligence.

He was born and reared in our midst, and no young man in the country had a larger circle of admiring friends, and no one ever more truly merited the confidence and esteem of his friends.

The only thing at all strange to us, is the fact that he has allied himself with the democratic party, for so far as we know, he is the only one in the large circle on either side of his father's mother's house that votes the democratic ticket, and the only way we can account for this is in the fact that he has in some way been convinced that he is right, and knowing him as we do, we know that once satisfied in his own mind of his duty, he would fearlessly perform that duty regardless of family traditions, or history.

His family on his mother's side gave forth of Licking county's brightest and bravest soldiers, in the person of Captain Ed L.
Lemert and his three brothers to the cause of the Union. One of these starved to death in the Andersonville prison, another was killed at Mission Ridge, in the front line of battle, while the other died of typhoid fever in the hospital at Chattanooga.
Captain Lemert alone surviving the war.

It was in honor of these four noble and brave young patriots that Lemert Post of this city was named.

There is no one of our people all call him,
was not in the army, for the simple reason that he was too young, for we take it that nothing else could have kept him from going to the front as nearly every one of his relatives bearing his name, who were old enough to carry a musket and did splendid service from the beginning to the close of that bloody conflict, or until they laid down their lives, as quite a number did on the field fighting for their country and her flag.

There can be nothing political in the position of county treasurer, and knowing the character of our old Licking county friend, and knowing, too, that he comes from one of the best families in Ohio, and that he will make an able and honest official, if elected, we truly hope the good people of his county may, without remorse to party elect him to attend the affairs of his treasury.

The Rep has twice set the example of praising the candidates on the republican ticket. We are content to let a republican editor, who knew Mr. Montgomery as man and boy, talk for him.

IT IS FUNNY.
The Rep gets funny about the way in which it got hold of the Wash Smith letter.
It said yesterday:

"The Review has gone into hysterics over the question of how that letter got into the hands of The Republican. It admits that the letter left the Decatur postoffice all right. The Review admits that it received the letter all right, and has done all it could to notify Mr. Wash Smith of its assessments. Thus far the case is clear and if Wash Smith don't pay his assessments we cannot help it.—The Rep.

That is about what THE REVIEW thought.
The purloining of letters under this beautiful administration is only a matter of mer-itment, provided the letters are the rightful property of democrats. But gentlemen, don't fool yourselves with the notion that we shall go into hysterics over the matter. The situation is the kind that calls for something besides congestive fainting fits. We just want it admitted by the republicans that it is a great joking matter to steal private letters out of the mails for campaign purposes; and then we will only insist that
the matter shall be turned over to the people for their verdict.

Here is a campaign committee in Macon
county that loftily takes to itself the right to go through your letters. If you are so foolish as to enter some objection, this committee's mouthpiece will give you the laugh.
And it is out of such an arrangement as that you expect a pure and fair election!

And let the people pass judgment on this style of performance. If they think it is about the proper thing for republican campaign committees to steal mail matter, it will only be necessary for the people to cease

writing letters.

THE Chicago News does not hesitate to say that the economical policy of the republican party in national affairs is neither more nor less than robbery of the working people. And it has also condemned the Force bill in as strong terms as any democratic paper. In spite of all this, THE News is doing what it can to defeat democratic candidates for the legislature, the principal work of which body will be to elect a U. S. senator who will either support or oppose the two measures opposed by The News, the McKinley bill and the Force bill. It curses the principles and supports the men who stand for them. It was thought that The Tribune had proved its right to be the only star that should take up this role.

THE REVIEW issues its last weekly edition before election day this month. A word to our friends in the country and to all those who believe that an honest election would be a good thing for Macon county. Go to the polls next Tuesday and remain there as long a time as you can. If there is any man about giving the voter a dollar or two dollars or more, get his name and also the names of the men with whom he bargains. Make a memorandum of any very suspicious transaction you may see, so that you will be able to furnish the names of the parties to the next grand jury.
This may not enable you to entirely kill bribery this time, but it will surely make the task an easy one for an important day that is to come two years hence.

WE hear a local howl about the public school and the law on which it is supposed to rest. Now gentlemen, in all honesty is not the public school the one institution in this country that is stronger than all else?
Is there any man who believes it is in danger? If there be such a man, room should be made for him in some mad house. The old parties have not agreed so well that it is now necessary to set up a man of straw and pelt him with pebbles in order to keep up an interest in politics.
Whenever there is any real danger to the public schools of this country you will find both the democratic and republican parties defending them.

THE people have heard a good deal about bribery for the last few days, and they may hear more for two or three days to come. Some may be put in doubt about the real situation. The thing for those people to do is to keep their own eyes open on election day. Gentlemen, that $3000 boodle fund can't be spent without flashing a good deal of money in public. Let the people who want to inform themselves about this matter have a look-out to see what party is flashing the money. And then let the people who are first in favor of free elections scratch the candidates of the party that is trying to save the country by boodle.

It is understood in republican quarters that Harve Mahanah is no longer in the race.

don't fool yourselves with the notion that we shall go into hysterics over the matter. The situation is the kind that calls for some-

purposes; and then we will only insist that
the matter shall be turned over to the people for their verdict.

Here is a campaign committee in Macon

will only be necessary for the people to cease
writing letters.

HERE WE ARE, CLEAR THE WAY.

WE ARE LOADED FOR BEAR.

DEAR FRIENDS:—We have been silent for several days, which brought a premature smile to the faces of our competitors. But they will know this morning that there was mischief brewing all the time. They will read over this list of prices and then go out and have a few disastrous rounds with the despair that will hug them closer and blacker than a shadow.

But friends their grief will be your joy. They will be sad unto joy because they know you will read of the bargains that are offered here—and that will be the end of their few sales-and-big-profits jig.

Here is What WE Can do For You.

600 Pairs Ladies' Dongola Button shoes in Opera and Common Sense. Our former price has been $3.00; we are going to sell them at $2.00. Other dealers here can't buy them at what we are selling them for. If you don't get a pair you will regret it.

500 Pairs Ladies' Dongola Button shoe at $1.35; our price was $2.25. They will be sold at this great sale at the above price and they are dandies. Our competitors may howl at such a slaughter but we have the goods and are going to sell if prices will do it.

300 Men's Real Congress shoes all solid and are worth $2.00; considering the great advance in prices we are going to run them out at $1.35.

We have 150 Pairs Men's Calf Congress shoes hand welt and they are dandies and you can't approach them at near the price. We are going to sell at $2.50. Just think, of a Men's hand sewed shoe being sold at such a price.

If this does not satisfy you that we UNDERSELL any other house in the business, come to our store and see the thousand other startling evidences that rest upon the shelves. The tariff may affect small concerns, but it stands out of the way for such a business as we do. Tariff or no tariff, we break the record every day in the matter of getting up bargains for our patrons.

The Weather.

For several days the weather has been threatening. It has looked as if the winter was upon us. The cold wind and leaden colored clouds have made us think of warm fires, and of those the best are made with Riverport coal. Order of E. L. Martin, 628 North Main, telephone 433.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers of the California Fig Syrup company.

I suffered for two weeks with neuralgia of the face, and procured immediate relief by using Salvation Oil. Mrs. Wm. C. Baid, 1212 E. Main st., Decatur, Ill.

A Chicago lover bet his best girl he could tell what she was thinking of. He thought she was thinking of him, but he wasn't; it was about Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which had just cured her of a dreadful cough.

WILLIAMS - WALSLEY.

Their Marriage Yesterday Morning—The Guests.

Frank F. Williams and Miss Cora B. Walsley were united in marriage yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George E. Schreiner of Stapp's chapel, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fannie B. Walsley, 323 East Condit street. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Jennie Montgomery, as the couple entered the parlor for the ceremony. The bride wore a beautiful traveling dress of Henrietta cloth trimmed with brown velvet and ornaments of natural flowers. After the numerous hearty congratulations from all the guests, a fine wedding dinner was served, the tables being placed in the house of Mrs. Walsley's daughter, Mrs. F. M. Watkins, who lives next door.

One thing that made the occasion a particularly delightful and interesting one was that there were present four generations of the Walsley family. Mrs. Walsley's mother is 78 years of age and is in excellent health. The relatives and friends present were Mrs. Fannie B. Walsley and her mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fams, William Williams, Marion Williams, Mrs. Walsley and her mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Walsley, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stoddard, Mrs. J. F. Bialne, Mrs. Jane Culver, Mrs. Elmer Culver, Mrs. D. A. Maffit, Mrs. A. V. Dodge and daughter, Mrs. Callender, of Vincennes, Ind., Mrs. H. W. Dwyer and Mrs. A. I. Abbott, of Terre Haute, Misses Elie Ursay, Effie Morrison, Carrie Hunter, Mollie Farmer, Pet Osborn, Jennie Montgomery, Nora Parker and Luella Buckles, of Illinois, Prof. Robert Walter, J. Ed Osborn, Jo Elkin and Leslie Schwab. The presents received were numerous, useful and beautiful, and included furniture, dishes and silverware, besides the many fancy articles.

Frank Williams is a well known and popular young man and a fine musician. His bride is a charming and accomplished young lady. The couple left on the P. & D. & E. yesterday afternoon for Galesburg, where they will visit until Tuesday. On their return they will live at 323 Condit street. They have a great many friends who wish them all happiness.

Board of Education.

The board of education met yesterday afternoon with Messrs. Chambers, Housum Warren and the clerk present. The treasurer's report for September was approved. The superintendent's report of tuition fund for September was approved.

The following bills were allowed: Decatur Corbin Works, $74.10; J. H. Bevans, 94.47; John Finlin, 65.55; E. A. Gastman, Supt., 7.10; William L. Oakes, 21.71; George W. Meyer, 3.45; F. J. Caldwell, 8.00; George S. Durfee & Bro., 3.50; Walter Pope, 1.50; Central Union Telephone Co., 73.50; Western Union Telegraph Co., 3.00; Ratton Warming and Ven. Co., 404.59; Decatur Gas Co., 2.60; City of Decatur, 17.50; J. H. Beck, 7.50; Decatur Lumber & Man'g. Co., 39.76. It was ordered that lot 9, block 1, of Powers' second addition to the city of Decatur be purchased of Mrs. Caroline M. Powers for $1,252.50. It contains 1.67 acres.

The superintendent was directed to purchase maps, mats, chairs, dictionaries, etc., for the Warren street school.

Brawl Between Brothers.

ARTHUR, Oct. 29.—Joe and Harve Campbell, two brothers, were in town Monday evening drinking. They had a little difficulty, but it was temporarily settled. Tuesday evening they met again and were both still under the influence of liquor. They were over the head and face, giving him several pretty good cuts, one of which would have proved fatal had it been a little deeper. It was just over the right jugger.

About four years ago Steve Campbell, a brother of Joe and Harve, was killed by a train. The family brawls is a frequent occurrence with them.

Real Estate Transfers.

William B. Krauer to William P. Hertton, lot 16, block 1, J. K. Warren & Co.'s Fifth addition; $1,500.

William K. Inman to William H. Taylor, four blocks in Harrisonburg; $600.

Thomas Bivens to Susan B. Fortner, two lots in the North addition to Decatur; $1,000.

William A. Fisher to Mollie Fisher, a lot in Warrenburg; $2.

Magdalena Fretus to Eckhardt Stein, 25 acres in section 14, Friend's Creek township; $1.

A Hunter.

Rev. T. W. Pinkerton, who has been at Armstrong the last 10 days, came down yesterday to perform the wedding ceremony for the Stong-Senior wedding. Though Mr. Pinkerton is at Armstrong, such important business as assisting at a protracted meeting, he found time two days ago to go hunting near the village. The result was 15 squirrels, 14 quail and a rabbit. Mr. Pinkerton used to be a famous shot in his young days in Kentucky, and his hand has lost none of its cunning, evidently.

Corn Husking Contest.

The 15th of November has been set as the date for the great corn husking match between Dick Best and Guyton, near Illinois.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam under the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable ability has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottle 50c and $1 at all drug stores. Sample bottle free.

He Yelled Kemp's Balsam.

I yell "Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. I always do when I have a man cough, and I can't help it. It saved me and it will cure you. I was threatened with pneumonia last winter and it broke it up. It helps the children out when their throats are sore, cures their coughs, and tastes so good. The first dose helps a lot. So writes A. A. Armstrong, engineer, on the West Shore railway, at Canajoharie, N. Y.

APPROACH - HALLOWEEN.

The Time-Honored Custom of Celebrating All Saints' Day.

Hallowe'en, or Hallowe'en, also known as All Saints' Day, will be celebrated tomorrow evening, the evening before Nov. 1. It is a night when all the fairies of the fairy world are said to visit mortals on earth, and their minds, and grant them what they wish. On that evening they are said to be most propitious and active, and are peculiarly apt in love affairs. The celebration dates back many hundred years when the Celtic natives of Europe held their meetings at which sacrifices were made, the gods propitiated and a merry making following. It comes in autumn or the approach of winter, when the last apple has been taken in and the fields and forests give signs to show that indoors is preferable to the open air.

SOME OF THE GAMES.

There are a great many games commonly played Hallowe'en evening in which old and young may take part. For instance, put some apples in a tubful of water and ask the guests to capture them by using a magic circle of light. Let each girl put the name of her preferred suitor on a piece of paper, wrap the paper up in a ball of mud and drop a number of such balls into the tub. The piece of paper which is chosen first to the surface is supposed to contain the name of the girl who will first be married to the girl who has chosen him. The courts have not decided, however, whether a suit for breach of promise will hold in case the man refuses to accept the ultimatum of the tub. Again, tie an apple to a string attached to a tag in the center of the room and see how many guests will make clowns of themselves in attempting to bite a piece out of the fruit without the use of their hands or a net. An apple can also be used for its seeds. The holder counts them and repeats the rhyme: One I love, two I love, Three I love I say, Four I love with all my heart, And five I cast away.

The unfortunate swain who selects the unlucky five is presumably left, and somebody else will be privileged to take the fair lady home, unless she, with woman's obstinacy, violates the law of Hallowe'en. If there is any one in the party who don't like lead him or her, as the case may be, before a covered mirror on the promise of showing a monkey in the mirror. When the drape is withdrawn it is sometimes embarrassing for the alleged monkey, but still everybody laughs. The pleasant custom of sitting around a big log fire and popping corn also attaches to Hallowe'en, as well as roasting turnips and pulling it, with the privilege conceded to the girls of putting as much molasses on the boys' hair as they can possibly get there. Another ancient custom is to send one of the maidens guests up to the room alone at precisely midnight when, if she gazes intently into the mirror and keeps her nerve she will surely see her future husband. Of course in the way of light and trifling amusement, in case the evening should be "lagging superfluous," it is permissible to pull your neighbor's available doorstep, so that he may have every opportunity to break his neck when he comes out to greet the milkman in the morning. Then, too, it is allowable to fasten a rope to the bell-knob of the door and have all your guests yank at it until the court house bell strikes an alarm of fire. If some late pedestrian should fall over the rope the disaster will only add zest and amusement to the occasion. Hallowe'en is a night of ghosts, and therefore it would not be out of the way to have a "ghost dance" when everybody appears wrapped in a sheet. The dance should begin at midnight. There are many other odd and ridiculous customs which pertain to the occasion, but those mentioned have longest stood the test of time.

Police Notes.

The levees police yesterday afternoon arrested a man who was exceedingly drunk. He said he was a butcher from Macon, and the officers put him in the Short street calaboose to stay until the train that would take him home.

Mrs. Mary Frost, popularly known as Dutch Mary, who keeps the Franklin house, and the other two, were yesterday against her son, Peter Smith, yesterday, one for assault and one for vagrancy. He had assaulted her. The case will be tried before Justice Hamner at 8 o'clock this morning.

The Polack women who were to be tried yesterday before Justice Curtis for stealing old iron belonging to the Wabash, were all discharged. They came into court ready for trial at the appointed time, but Detective Ballard, of the Wabash, who had made the complaints, did not appear at all, and so there was nothing to do but dismiss the case.

Northeast Decatur.

Quite a number of our young folks went to Cerro Gordo Tuesday evening to dance.

Three hundred and seventy-two names are now on the First district register. There are more than 400 in the district. In the presidential campaign only 389 votes were cast in this district. It would be well for some folks who seek office to attend a little more strictly to the wants of the people in this part of Decatur. Houses are getting scarce. Now everything in the shape of a house is occupied or being rented.

Since last report more lots have changed hands on North Calhoun and new houses are promised in the near future.

"The Wife" To-night.

Here is the way the San Francisco Chronicle speaks of the play for to-night:

"It is pleasant to record the unquestioned hit of 'The Wife' at the Baldwin Theatre last night. It is a bright, clean and wholesome comedy, picturesque and novel. Besides being one of the prettiest plays yet presented, it is yet continuously interesting, well worth seeing and made a success. The company presenting it is a remarkable one, consisting of artistic talent and personal refinement, and deserves nothing but commendation. No better ensemble ever presented."

No Score.

Some Chicago paper has published an item to the effect that there is a great scarlet fever scare in Decatur, Ill., and there is talk of closing the schools on that account. There is no foundation whatever for such a report. There are only one or two cases of the disease in the city, and they are occasioning no alarm.

Hallowe'en Parties.

Preparations are being made for a great many Hallowe'en parties to-morrow night. The young people are making arrangements to have lots of fun, and it is quite likely that the usual number of gates will be missing the next morning.

In Character.

Congressman Jonathan H. Rowell and J. G. Cannon spoke yesterday afternoon at Atwood. In the evening Mr. Cannon was going around the town dressed up as a farmer. He was making a dead set for the boys' votes.

Mrs. T. W. Douglass came down from Peoria yesterday to visit her husband, the passenger director of the union depot, and together they went to Chicago last night to make a visit of a few days.

More Fishing.

John A. Dawson, Homer Montgomery and S. R. Gher laid aside the cares of politics yesterday and went out to Coulter's mill to spend a day in the pursuit of the amusement that old Isaac Walton made popular. They had good luck and passed a pleasant half a day. No stories will be told, however, by that crowd.

One Case.

A child of Charles Mallett, at 1120 East William street, is down with diphtheria. This is probably the only serious case of the disease in Decatur now.

Milmine.

O. C. Walsh was in Decatur Saturday on business.

C. W. Davis and wife, of Bement, visited here Saturday and Sunday.

John Hughes and wife, of Cerro Gordo, visited friends here last Sunday.

The L. O. O. F. festival here Saturday evening was a success financially with a good attendance for threatening weather.

A surprise supper was given Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mitchell Tuesday evening. Mr. Mitchell and family expect to move to their new home in the southern part of the state soon.

MILMINE, Ill., Oct. 27, '90.

To whom it may concern:

Learning that G. N. Snapp, candidate for superintendent on the republican ticket, has written a letter to S. H. Baker, of Milmine, denying that if I would support him this coming election he would let me out of the Milmine district, and for the benefit of those whom it may concern, I wish to certify to the following and if necessary make affidavit to the same:

I do hereby certify that I have been a life long republican, that I have supported all honorable candidates on that ticket for office, that I expect to do so, that G. N. Snapp did promise me if I would support him he would let me out of Milmine district, if elected again.

But I would never paying tuition all my life, then to get out by the unfair means G. N. Snapp has proposed, and I do not think him an ideal man to serve as superintendent over our schools for four years longer.

"Stand by the Party."
Chicago, spoke to a medium sized audience at the court house last night. He came here under the auspices of the Abraham Lincoln club, the republican colored men's organization. He arrived yesterday afternoon and stopped at the Deming. Last night at 8 the Monitor band played a selection in front of the hotel and then escorted Mr. Porter to the court house. He was accompanied by Hue Stogdole, I. R. Rogan, James Hollinger and other prominent men of the club. At the hall the speaker made the usual republican speech, of which the often repeated refrain was, "Stand by the party."
The speaker dwelt entirely on national questions, and did not come down to local affairs at all. The McKinley and force bills engaged a great share of his attention. Even those of his own race were disappointed in his speech.
Rev. J. S. Woods who introduced him also followed with a short speech.
The audience was about equally divided between colored and white people, and a number of ladies of each race were present.

Boys Make Trouble.
The Illinois Central yardmen have a great deal of trouble with the bad boys of the north-east part of the city. There is a law under which a railroad company may be fined for allowing any of their cars to block a street crossing longer than 10 minutes. The boys seem to know this, and they let the brakes off of cars away up in the north end of the yards, allowing them to run down to a street crossing. After they stand there about an hour, the yardmen hear of it by meeting some irate teamster who is so mad that his breath comes out of his mouth in bright blue smoke. Then the switch engine has to drop work and go out there to set the cars back where they belong. Of course no one knows what boys did the mischief, and it is a good deal of trouble to watch the yards just to find that out. The railroad people are promising themselves the pleasure, however, of getting a gang of youngsters into the police court some day, as an offset to the fun the boys have had.

A Good Branch.
The Eldorado street line of the Citizens street car company is now doing a good steady business that will soon make the extension one of the profitable branches of the road. Two cars are now used there, and they run from East Park Boulevard to the old square. The people on the east end are great customers of the shows. Tuesday night one car brought 27 people up town on one trip, and the car following brought 16. All went to see Rose Corbuan. The east enders are very good church goers, too, and Sunday night a large part of the inhabitants of the addition come up to church. The shoe factory makes considerable business for the street cars. About 15 people go out to the factory every morning and return every night. Since the line was built, many people have moved out to that part of town who before would as soon have thought of moving out to Sangamon, or some other suburb.

"The Riversons."
The Chicago Times last Saturday contained a review and criticism of Dr. S. J. Bumstead's novel, "The Riversons." It devoted some space to a brief resume of the plot of the novel, and then made the criticism which was in the main complimentary. It spoke highly of the central idea of the story which, depends on an odd phase of psychological study, but thought that not enough had been made of that and that too many minor matters had entered into the work.
Lippincott's Magazine also contained a brief review of the work this month, noting the fact that the book is of special interest to Philadelphians.
John Wanamaker's store in Philadelphia has been making a run on the book, and has sold a large number of copies. The presses of the publishers broke a few days ago while running on "The Riversons," and they consequently were unable to fill Wanamaker's last order.

An Occasion of Rejoicing.
For years the old Priest alley, back of Per's livery stable and Singleton's restaurant, has been a depository for masonry, a cemetery for dead cats, a reservoir for fifth of all kinds, and headquarters for some of the mightiest smells that ever surrounded the presence of diabolical diseases. It is, therefore, with a good deal of satisfaction that the people who live near the alley, and those who have had to jeopardize their health by passing it, have watched the making of the excavation now being made for the pavement. To-day the bricks will be going down and in a few days the alley will be as smooth and clear as any street. Then the first man that erects a fifth pile in it, will be arrested.

The Methodist Election.
The election in the Methodist church mentioned some time ago as set down to occur in October, will not be held in Deatur until November. The First Methodist church election will be held Tuesday, the 25th. Stapp's chapel will be allowed to vote. That of course will allow women to vote. The question is whether women shall be admitted to the church conferences, as preachers. The election will be held just to get the sentiment of the members on the subject, and the result will have no binding power on the general conference, which decides the question itself afterwards.

Growing.
Said a gentleman yesterday who is in the freight office of a leading Deatur railroad: "We are very busy now. We are that way all the time, for that matter. Our force in the office and in the freight house is enlarged on all sides. The white, but the whole crowd is kept hustling all the time. We are doing some thousands of dollars worth business every month this year than we did last year. It is not a spur, but just a steady growth. It is to me the most convincing evidence I see of the increasing size of the city, and is encouraging, indeed."

Mrs. Imboden's Funeral.
The funeral of Mrs. F. W. Imboden who died Tuesday night, will be held from the First M. E. church at 10 o'clock to-morrow evening. Friends of the family who wish to view the remains are requested to call at the home of E. B. Roberts on North Water street between 3 p. m. Thursday and 9 a. m. Friday.

Miss Anna Meyers, who lives at 854 East Lawrence street, has been troubled for some time with a fleshly growth over one of her eyes. It was removed Tuesday by Dr. E. J. Weyl, assisted by Dr. George W. Weyl.

A fine vein of satire is sometimes developed in the advertisements of the astrological seers. Their advice for Nov. 4 is, "Neither ask favors nor speculate this day," and it is surely remarked of the 5th that it is "an unimportant day."
Joseph Kirkland who wrote "Zury, the Meanest Man in Spring County," is literary critic on the Chicago Tribune. Dr. S. J. Bumstead wrote a letter of inquiry to him last week enclosing a stamped envelope directed to himself for the reply. The answer came promptly, and at the conclusion Mr. Kirkland added, "It was very kind of you to enclose the stamped envelope for reply, but why did you seal it? That is one on you!"

Rip Van Winkle was at the depot last night. At any rate it was an old gentleman, with long white beard and hair, just the very picture of the ideal Rip. He was pretty wide awake, however, for a man who had a habit of sleeping 20 years at a stretch. He explained that by remarking that he had been in Deatur a couple of days and found it a very lively town. Evidently he was anxious for another good long rest, because he left on the 10:30 train for Danville.

Prices on many articles are going up. In many instances the advance is very marked. The retailers say they have a racket every day or two now with some customer who comes in to buy an article and is much surprised to find that he has to pay from 10 to 30 per cent more than he did six months ago. If the buyer is a working man, he is all the more surprised, because he has not heard anything about his wages being raised, and he naturally thinks the two things should go together. Among the lines that experienced a smart advance recently are carpets, oil cloths, house furnishings, linings and trimmings used by tailors, sheet iron, tin plate, and other articles used by builders.

Deacons Installed.
The prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church last night was of unusual interest, and that drew a very large attendance. The main room of the church was almost entirely filled. The occasion was the installation of the five newly elected deacons, A. H. Mills, George E. Knight, T. A. Bone, W. L. Dumont and I. D. Walker. After the usual prayer meeting exercises, the new deacons took seats immediately in front of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Penhalligon. He then made them a short address, speaking of the responsibilities and duties of their position. Then speaking to each one separately he formally pronounced him installed in the office.

Branching Out.
Simon Dientsbier, manager of Nels Morris & Co.'s dressed beef station, was at Springfield yesterday to make arrangements for supplying that city with dressed beef from this station here. The company has a very complete plant here, and expect to build up quite a trade with the butchers in neighboring towns.

Born.
To Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ball, south of the city, on Tuesday, Oct. 25, a son.

STOUGH-BENOUR.
A handsome couple stood before Rev. T. W. Pinkerton last night at 8 o'clock, at the residence of H. B. Poland, on East Prairie street. The young people were John Stough, a well known and well liked letter carrier, and Miss Dora Senour, a young lady of many accomplishments. The young lady wore a well-fitting costume of white cashmere and satin, her only ornaments, being a fine cluster of Marchal Neil roses. The groom was in the usual black. The short ceremony that was conducted by Mr. Pinkerton was witnessed by about 30 friends, and at the conclusion they extended the warmest congratulations, which are voiced by the way, by a large circle of friends. If good wishes bring any happiness these young people will have a great deal, and they deserve it.
An elaborate wedding supper was served. The guests included two sisters of the bride from out of the city, Mrs. Diaber, of Plymouth, Ind., and Miss Delle Seymour, of Bourbon, Ind.
Mr. and Mrs. Stough will go to house-keeping at once in their new home, already bought and furnished on Galt street.

SIMPSON-CLIFFORD.
George W. Simpson, of Clinton, and Miss Gertrude Clifford, of Decatur, were married Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Clifford, 508 East Prairie street, by Rev. George E. Seiler. A wedding supper was served. They left that night for Chicago and St. Paul on a wedding trip, and on their return will live at Clinton. The groom is an engineer on the C. & E. L.

LANGDALE-WILLIS.
James Langdale and Miss Maud Willis were married last night by Rev. W. H. Penhalligon at his residence. A few of the friends of the couple were present. Mr. Langdale is a clerk in a grocery store and quite popular. He has many friends.

ARNOTT-SPORE.
Abraham Arnott and Miss Adelia May Spore, both of Argenta, were married yesterday afternoon at 1:30 by Justice Curtis at his parlors. The parties were accompanied by several friends.

TRACK AND TRAIN.
Engineer Walter Mathis, of the I. C., is laying off.
Engineer Charles Foote, of the C. & H. L., is taking a short lay off.
E. M. Legg, traveling auditor of the Wabash, was here last night.
Master Carpenter Wallace, of the Wabash, went to Chicago yesterday.
Division Superintendent J. S. Goodrich went to Chicago from Decatur last night.
Brakeman Wakely, of the P. D. & E., has been promoted to be an extra freight conductor.
The Wabash is making extensions to the Chicago freight house and also adding to the freight office there.
The new time card on the Wabash will go into effect Sunday. It changes the time of local freights only.
William King, target man at the depot, is acting as passenger director while T. W. Douglass is in Chicago.

The Wabash has put on suburban trains from Chicago to Worth, 18 miles, and eight trains a day are running.
H. I. Rhen, passenger agent of the C. H. & D., with his office at Indianapolis, was here yesterday to drum up business.
The I. C. has decided not to keep two operators at work in the telegraph office in the day time, and Harry Kennedy has gone back to night work after barely tasting the sweets of a day job. Operator Rhodes, who did the night work, has gone to Centralia.

The new passenger depot at the corner of Harrison street and Fifth avenue in Chicago will be opened early next month. The Chicago & Northern Pacific, the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City and the Wisconsin Central are the roads now using the depot.
The trouble between the Western Union Telegraph Co. and Brotherhood of Telegraphers at St. Louis, will be amicably disposed of by to-day. The Western Union will probably succeed in doing what it wanted to do and the local branch of the Brotherhood will be dissolved.
Arrangements are being perfected by the Chicago & Eastern Illinois for the construction of a connecting link between its road and the Big Four (Indianapolis & St. Louis) which when completed, will form another good line between Chicago and St. Louis, a strong traffic agreement between the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and the Big Four having been formed for that purpose.

DeWitt F. M. B. A.
The Farmer's Mutual Benefit association, of DeWitt county will ask the representatives for congressional and legislative offices to state their attitude upon the plan to elect United States senators by popular vote, to punish the gambling of the Chicago board of trade, to reduce by law the extortionate charges of the stock yard officials in Chicago, to secure school books at cost, to secure reduction of tariff taxes on the common and needful articles of life and to get rid of national banks.

The Co-operative.
The co-operative boarding club at the Roby is in very prosperous condition now. The club is almost full, there being about 50 members, and the board is excellent. There is occasionally a surplus in the treasury now at the end of the week, although the bill of fare is continually improving, which indicates that the increased experience makes more successful management. The club is certainly a solid and permanent fixture now.

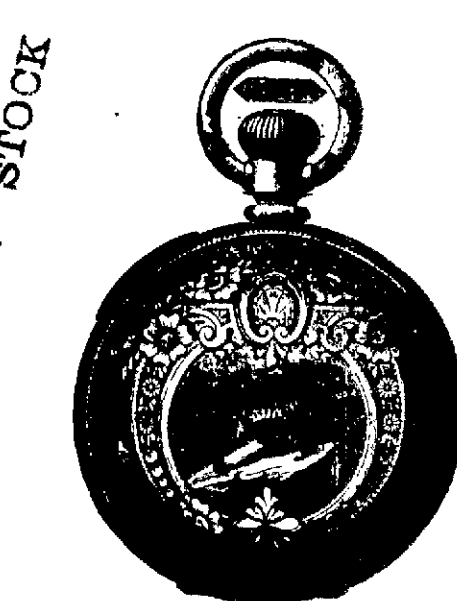

Pastime Park.
Capt. George Morrison closed the present and continued season at Pastime park Tuesday by a novel entertainment which he calls a fishing carnival. During the summer several buildings have been put up on the grounds and the boating facilities have been much improved.

Four Years on Crutches.
For fifteen years I was afflicted with rheumatism, four years of which I was compelled to go on crutches. Words are inadequate to express the suffering I endured during that time. During those fifteen years of existence (a hellish living), I tried every known remedy, without benefit. I finally began on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), which from the first gave me relief, and today I am enjoying the best of health, and am a well man. I candidly believe that S. S. S. is the best blood purifier on the market today.
J. D. TAYLOR, Chicago, Ill.
